17 February 1956

1. [redacted]

[redacted] is coming to visit in April and would like to see something of our training. I have asked Mr. Rositzke to take it up with [redacted] and Angleton. If Angleton approves this visit to [redacted] we will then get approval from Mr. Helms.

2. I went down to [redacted] The evening of 14 February and came back the next evening. The purpose of the visit was to see generally how things were going. [redacted] reported that [redacted] are doing extremely well and he would like to get them both as instructors. Talked with [redacted] who is getting along pretty well and is apparently quite enthusiastic about the training. Talked to [redacted] at length about his future and I am afraid we are in for trouble here. Sat in on a briefing the OC Staff held in preparation for the running of a problem - [redacted] in charge and they had everything highly organized.

3. At the Staff Meeting today, I cautioned all hands to keep me informed of their whereabouts if they were to be away. Also discussed at length the complication of the disapproval of [redacted] [redacted] announced that [redacted] had nominated a second person to teach Effective Writing and that the new man has now been cleared.
